A center of excellence dedicated to reducing the effects of climate change by improving the built environment.

Building Energy Exchange (BE-Ex) accelerates the transition to healthy, comfortable, and energy efficient buildings by serving as a resource and trusted expert to the building industry.

The BE-Ex Ambassador Program gives individuals who are committed to effective climate action an opportunity to support and participate in BE-Ex's mission of convening industry stakeholders and providing neutral, expert information in order to ensure better buildings and better cities.

BE-Ex Ambassador Contribution: $1,000

Benefits:

- Membership to the Industry Leadership Council
 - Exclusive educational and networking events
 - Complimentary entry to live BE-Ex events
- Frequent opportunities to participate in advisory groups and speaking panels
- Early access to BE-Ex's research and resources
- Recognition on the BE-Ex website

*Industry Leadership Council (ILC) members are a select group that will assist BE-Ex in our mission to advance energy efficiency in the built environment. This community of leaders benefits from exclusive events and provides strategic and technical guidance on BE-Ex programs and activities.
